A Readjuster Gets Excited..." Liars and Cowards"--- Exaggerated Reports of the Cotton Fire.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 29.-At the Readjusters' meeting here last night, J. Q. Powell, the readjuster candidate for the State Senate publicly denounced John Taylor, of the Recorder. as a "liar and a coward." Taylor drew a pistol which was struck down and discharged. Powell then also drew his pistol, but was disarmed before he could fire. A large audience was present and great confusion existed for a short time. But after the appeals from the leading citizens order was restored and Powell resumed the stand. aud at the conclusion of his speech he denounced the course of offending newspapers toward himself, and pronounced those who would not meet him as gentlemen, as liars and cowards. At a late hour the difficulty was adjusted by a retraction of the offensive language by the Recorder, and a like retraction by Powell.

THE COTTON FIRE.

A telegram received at 1 A. M. from West Point, reports that the fire which broke out on the cotton platform of the Richmond, York River & Chesapeake railroad was gotten under control before the Richmond fire engine reached the scene, the New York steamship Richmond having arrived and put on the streams from her pumps. The first report of the amount of cotton burned was exaggerated, the number being only between two hundred and three hundred bales. None of the sheds or wharves were burned. The fire originated from the sparks of a locomotive. Great excitement prevailed, the West Point people fearing the fire would spread to the town.

Baltimore Sun. 29th. WASHINGTON, October 28.—An Ohio Democratic politician says that quite a large proportion of the Republican campaign fund in that State was contributed by Jay Gould and C. P. Their object, it is said, was to prevent Senator Thurman's re-election to the Senate, as it was principally due to him that Congress passed the bill compelling the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific Railroad Companies to comply with their obligations to the government. Border Review. As time and space may permit, we propose to give some information to our readers up and down the border, in regard to matters of trade, etc., in this city. During fair week, we were politely

Everything in fact to supply the country, town, and village dealer, and at much lower prices than such dealers can buy in the Northern markets. The smail merchant can here buy less than packages and cases, at strictly wholesale rates, and being near home and cheaply accessible to the houses from which he buys, will be under no necessity of carrying forward any surplus stock, but can buy as he sells, and thus operate on a much smaller capital. Mr. A. Creech, another enterprising wholesale dealer, carries a very heavy stock, and offers all the facilities af-

The great saving in traveling expenses is also an item of infortance.

SOUND ADVICE TO REPUBLICANS. New York Independents Say a Word to Disheartened Republicans.

Despite the curse of bad leadership, it is not yet time for the Republican party to die. The conduct of the Democrats in Congress has shown that neither reform nor safety can be looked for at their hands. While we deprecate the revival of war issues, we submit (1) that Democratic victory would directly and dangerously encourage sectionalism, lawlessness and repudiation at the South, which can be overcome only by lifting these communities, slowly but surely, into self-respecting responsibility by constitutional meth-ods such as those of President Hayes. It is (2) the honest financial policy of the Republican party which, against Democratic opposition, has brought about resumption and a business prosperity now daily increasing. (3) service reform, the first step toward the cure of party evils, can come despite Mr. Cornell's nomination, only from the Republican party. The Republican whose apathy keeps him from the polls deserts his cause at a moment when final victory is at stake.

In nominating the weakest instead of the strongest candidate to lead the ticket, Mr. Conkling has deliberately deprived the gubernatorial contest of national significance, and the encour-agement of the Tammany candidature by the Republican managers emphasizes this fact. The arguments for the election of Mr. Cornell hold good only for the election of the ticket without him. In the defeat of that part of the Democratic ticket headed by Clarkson N. Potter, the friend and ally of Mr. Tilden in the national Congress, Republicans will pronounce their condem-nation of Mr. Tilden and of Democratic Tammany Hall, the Republican machine and and the canal ring. The defeat of Mr. Cornell we believe also to be the only means to prevent in 1880 an unfit nomination or the use of General Grant's name as a cloak for the corrupt rings that disgraced him and disgraced the nation before. The splendid tri-umph of the party in Ohio, under the leadership of a firm friend of the President's policy, for sound finance and Republican principles, is sufficient as-surance that in scratching Mr. Cornell we are not in danger of defeating the ticket. A RELIC OF THE WAR.

A Confederate Cap Machine Found

in Danville. Danville Daily Post. A Confederate cap machine has been found in Danville in some old rubbish, all complete, but very rusty, and has no doubt been lying in its present place ever since the war. This machine was ever since the war. This machine was invented by Mr. W. H. Walsh, the ex-cellent millwright and mechanic of this county. In May, 1861, Mr. Walsh was in Richmond, where he found the government had engaged and Debug, northern man, to supply it in musket caps, that were then in great demand. Debow asked Walsh down in the arsenal, and while looking at it Walsh remarked that he could make a better nachine, and a General Dimmock standing by replied that it was very desirable he should do so. He went to Lynchburg, and there, in the Phenix foundry with A. Dabney & Son, in duced a cap machine that would make thirty thousand good caps in ten hours. This he took to Richmond and sold it to the government for fifteen thousand dollars. He returned to Lynchburg and made another machine, a great improvement on his first, whose capacity was eighty thousand caps per day of ten hours. This he sold for three thousand dollars. Shortly after ne made the third machine, which would make twelve thousand caps per hour, four different sizes of caps, and it was placed in the arsenal, under General Dimmock's supervision. The yankee papers at the time pronounced it "a big confederate lie." On the evac-uation of Richmond, Mr. Walsh was ordered to Lynchburg with these machines, five of them, and this last, the twelve thousand per hour machine, was loaded on a two-horse wagon and taken through the country to Lynchburg, and thence to Danville, where it has been ever since. It is perhaps, one of the most prominent relics in the South

Y., says: Some startling revelations were made public yesterday, in relation to the Greenfield case, which, if true, will show Orlando Green field to be an innocent man, although he is now under sentence to be hanged December 12th next. During Green-field's trial the defense made strenuous efforts to introduce two letters which they claimed were of great importance, as showing that Royal Kellogg committed the murder. The letters were ruled out by the court upon an objection by the prosecuting attorney. One of the letters was dated Lafayette, Indiana, in which Royal Kellogg practically admitted that he knew all about the murder. A second letter confesses that the writer committed the murder, and that Greenfield is innocent. One hundred of the most prominent citizens of Oswego have testified under oath that the handwriting of the second letter is that of Poyal Kellogg.

Manchester Uni on The history of a single bean, accidentally planted in a garden in South-bridge, Mass., is raced by a newspaper correspondent, who figured out its produce for threeyears. The bean was planted in a rich, loamy soil, and when gathered in the autumn its yield, as counted, "was 1,515 perfectly developed beans from single stalk." Now if a single bean produce 1,515 more, the sum total of thesecond year's product would be 2,294225, equal to 1,195 pounds, 597 qurts, or 2,390 army rations, equal to 188 bushels. This would be the poduct of the second year. Now, if te plant this product and the yield is the same, we have a product of 5,268,08,800,624 beans, equal to 1,271,572 bushels, or 548,756,068 soldiers' rations. This third planting would give the teamship Great Eastern ninety-two fill freights.

THE NATIONAL FAIR.

GRAND INDUSTRIAL PROCESSION ON THE OPENING DAY.

The Appearance of the City-The Procession---- At the Fair Grounds---Remarks of President Hayes.

Condensed from the Washington Star of 28th This morning opened brightly and pleasantly, with a mild autumn atmosphere, the wind being southerly. Later the sky was partially overcast with clouds-without indications of rain, however. At an early hour the streets resounded with the noise of horses and vehicles on the streets, and the shrill whistles and voices of boys marshaling their fellows for a look at the procession. Flags were displayed from the public buildings, hotels and many private houses all over the city, which presented quite a gala-day appearance, the streets being tull of people. The day was generally observed as a holiday throughout the District, the General and District government offices being closed, also the public schools and many business houses, which accounts for the crowds of people on the streets in holiday attire. THE INTERNATIONAL PROCESSION. According to the published notice the participants in the grand industrial procession were to have assembled at 8 'clock on the streets at the base of the Capitol on the west. The fire depart, ment on the west side of First street, north of Pennsylvania avenue, right resting at the naval monument. There was some little delay as usual in getting into line, and the number of vehicles on the ground which came to take a place in the procession, was so much larger than was expected that the marshals were compelled to order the wagons and vehicles to fall in wherever they could find a place. Promptly at 9 o'clock the procession moved, and of that hour there were many vehicles of all sorts on the way to the place of

The line was headed by a detail of policemen, mounted, and flanked by dismounted men. Then came the chief marshal, Mr. Frank Hume and his as-

Next was the full Marine band, fortyeight pieces, making a fine show as usual; carriages containing the man-agers of the association, each drawn by four tine horses with outriders; and carriages containing the Fire Commisioners and invited guests. The District Fire Department came next, headed by Donch's band. As usual, this was a prominent and beautiful feature of the parade. The clear and bright apparatus, strong and sleek looking horses, and the stalwart men with their neat uniforms, made an attractive spectacle, and the boys were heartily cheered. A delegation of about a dozen or more members of the Hydraulic Fire Comhorse wagon, and took place in line, after the D. C. Fire Department.

Various trades and mercantile interests were represented in the long proession, the wagons being finely fitted up with the appliances, interspersed with bands and military companies. [The list of firms appearing would make a column and a quarter of the Nrws.] THE SCENE ON THE AVENUE. Pennsylvania avenue presented an exceedingly animated appearance as the line filed up toward 15th street, the sidewarks being crowded all the way and the windows of every house, por with admiring spectators. There were many flags hung out from private dwellings and a line of bunting was strung across from the Washington House to Mades' restaurant, opposite. The procession would have strung all the way across the Long Bridge had it not been deployed on the cross streets south of Maryland avenue, reaching down in each deploy line to near Water street.

The procession passed up the avenue and over the streets in accordance with the programme previously announced presenting a scene of life and anima-tion throughout its route. No accidents occurred as far as was known, notwithstanding the pressure of the crowd on the sidewalks and carriage ways. After breaking ranks on their return to the City Hall, the gaily deco-rated vehicles and horses, which had been in line, in most cases, returned to Pennsylvania avenue and drove up and down its entire length without re gard to order, thus keeping up the fun until interrupted by the rain about midday. The jam of spectators at the intersection of the streets with Pennsylvania avenue and especially at the 7th street crossing, was immense, and required the strictest vigilance of the police to prevent accidents. The entire population appeared to have turned out to witness the unusual display, and the crowd was augmented by many strangers from other cities and country people from Maryland and Virginia. After the sights connected with the procession had all been thoroughly canned, a general rush was made for the Fair grounds, many by way of the county road, but a greater number by way of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and by 12 o'clock the avenue was com-

seek shelter. AT THE FAIR GROUNDS Persons who after the procession visited the fair grounds at Ivy City, found the work of preparation still in pro-gress, there being an air of incom-pleteness about the various departments which will be remedied in a day or two. Passengers by the cars he I to make a six-foot jump and then go up a primitive set of stairs to a clayey in-cline. The ticket booths at either side of the railroad entrance are unfinished, but the ticket takers and sellers were on hand with big rosettes. Inside the inclosure the noises of the hammer and saw were heard everywhere, from the main building to the booths in course of construction. The ground is uneven and carts were still hauling dirt. The main building was not open to-day, the exhibits not being in and much work remaining to be done. The art gallery is not quite complete, and there is nothing in it yet. Machinery hall is open, and a number of good exhibits were to be seen in the line of wagons, carriages, agricultural implements and fire engines. A large number of exhibitors are fixing up in the main building. Work is going on on the grand stand and on all the stables. The building for exhibition of poultry and dogs is nearer complete than any ex-cept Machinery Hall, but much remains to be done on it yet. The exhibitors have not got their stock in position to be seen yet. From what was observed to-day there is going to be a fine display in this quarter.

Very few people went out on the first train this morning. After trying to get a look at something somewhere, and having to content themselves with what Machinery Hall, the poultry and dog shows and stables had to show they mostly congregated under the grand stand to keep out of the dust that a trisk and jerky breeze drove everywhere, taking along with it chips and the odds and ends of sawed planks. At came up from the northwest and cold rain set in, which converted the dust into sticky mud. Everybody hunted shelter.

At lo'clock the train took out enough people to make an attendance of over three thousand. Some of the fair peo-ple estimated that there were eight or ten thousand people present.

MAKING HER FATHER'S GRAVE. A Pathetic Scene Witnessed in an

Ohio Cemetery. andusky Register. A little girl with tangled locks, peeping from under a calico hood, clad in a dress of chintz, loitered behind as the great dusty crowd moved out of the gates of Mount Adna the other day after they had scattered their flower and done honor to the dead. Dreamily she gazed after them, her eyes filled with a far-away look of tenderness, until the last one had disappeared and the rattle of the drums had died away. Then she turned and vaguely scanned the mounds that rose about her, clutching still tighter the fading bunch of dandelions and grass that her chubby hand held. An old man came by and gently patted her curly head as he spoke her name, but she only shrank back still further, and when he told a passing stranger that the little one's father had died on shipboard and been buried at sea, there was only a tear drop in the child's eye to tell that she heard or knew the story.

When they were gone she moved on further to a neglected, empty lot, and kneeling down she piled up a mound of earth, whispering as she parted i and smoothed it with her chubby hand, "This won't be so awfully big as the others, I guess, but may be it will be big enough so that God will see it and think that papa is buried here." Carefully she trimmed the sides with the grass she plucked, murmuring on:
will be like the rest in two or three years, and then may be papa will some time come back and "—But she paused as though it suddenly dawned upon her young mind that he rested beneath the waves, and the tear-drops that sprung to her eyes moistened the little bunch of dandelions that she planted among the grasses on the mound she had reared. When the sexton passed that way at night as he went to close the gates he found the little one fast asleep, with her head pillowed on the mound.

An Alabama Banditti.

Montgomery Advertiser, The readers of the Advertiser will remember that an item was printed in these columns about the 1st of September stating that the safe of the treasur-er's office of Green county had been robbed of seven or eight thousand dollars. Detectives went to work to ferret out the perpetrators of the robbery, and it appears that their efforts have resulted in partial success. About ten days ago W. E. Cockrell, a young man about grown, and formerly a member of the House of Representatives, made his appearance in this city, and it was noticed by sundry persons that he was quite lavish in spe money and putting on style. This naturally excited suspicion, and the eyes of the detectives were at once directed toward him. By keeping up a constant watch at both ends of the line, enough facts were evolved to warrant the arrest of Cockrell, which was done on Monday last, as he is now in jail in Greene county. Several thousand dollars of the stolen funds were discovered and secured. Cockrell was rather well known in this community-not very favorably known, however, and there are some persons not at all surprised at the present developments. It appears that W. E. Cockrell was the chief of a band of robbers that has been the terror of Eutaw for several months. They robbed the county treasurer's office, the post-office at Eutaw and the houses of various citizens. Six thousand and five hundred dollars of the money stolen from the treasurer's office was found hidden away in Cockrell's house. Several negroes were arrested with Cockrell, and also two of his brothers, both younger than himself.

Tournament in Pender.

Wilmington Star, 29th. We learn that there will be a tournament at Burgaw, on Wednesday, the 5th of November. Dr. E. Porter has been selected as chief marshal, and Dr. Waiter Murphy will deliver the address. There will be a ball at night, and a band of music will be engaged for the occasion. The committee of arrangements are Messrs. W. E. Cowan, S. H. Bell, E. R. Williams, J. H. Tunkens. Daniel Bordeaux, Willie Bordeaux and Grattan Williams."

OPENING DAY OF THE VIRGINIA STATE FAIR.

imali Attendance---The Exhibition not as Good as in Former Years---The Various Exhibits.

Petersburg Index-Appeal, 29th. - RICHMOND, Oct. 28.-The nineteenth exhibition of the State Agricultural Fair opened here to-day. The attendspee, as is usual on the first day, was quite small. In the morning there were not more than four hundred persons on the grounds, in the afternoon, be crowd was slightly increased. Tomorrow the military competitive drill will take place between the white companies and the attendance, as is always the case on the second day, will be large. Thursday the drill of the colored military will take place. As a whole the exhibition is not as good as in years past although there are many attractive features. The bench show is one that will attract considerable attention, especially from the men. A number of famous breeds of canines are exhibited, some from Maryland, New York and Pennsylvania. This department was visited to day by a great many persons and was probably the most attractive feature of the day.

The cattle and stock are usually fine and varied, and does great credit to the State. The greater portion of the best and miscellaneous departments appeared to be up to the usual standard, both in excellence of the exhibits, variety and quantity.

The machinery department is not as full as in former years, in fact it is the most meager that I have ever seen. Nearly all of the Richmond machine shops are represented, but in most cases somewhat scantily.

There were fewer shows, Judy and Punch and other people of that class, plying their trade on the grounds this year than usual. This is accounted for from the fact that the officers of the association have seen fit to charge these people such a heavy ground rent that they cannot afford to attend the fair. While what they exhibit may not be either instructive or useful, still they increase the attractions of the exhibition and give spice and variety to the pleasure of the visitors. Strangers are arriving by every incoming train on all of the roads, and the prospects are that the attendance tomorrow and the two succeeding days will be equally as large as last year and the year before.

Some few exhibitors, who have probably been prevented from sending their articles before, will send them this after-There were more lady visitors on the Death of a Stowaway from Starva-NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The steamship England, of the National Line, arrived in port this morning from Liverpool. When her cargo was about to be removed a man was found leaning against a crate, who gasped "water." He was terribly emaciated and weak. He faintly gave his name as Harry, and said he was a baker. He was asked if he had been all the time while the ship was at sea without food or drink, and he nodded once, shuddered and died. The body was sent to the morgue Nothing was found on it to indicate its identity but a piece of paper, on which was scratched the address Hartman, baker, at Simpson's, Soho street, Branch." The England left Liverpool October 15th, and the stow-away must have been thirteen days without food or water. The dead man man appeared to be about thirty-two

A Postmaster's Deficiency.

When Postmaster Greene, of Jersey City, N. J., went over his accounts recently with the federal postoffice agents sent to examine his books, they discovered belonger of about 210 0000. ered a balance of about $10,000 due from Mr. Greene to the government. Mr. Greene drew his check for that amount and paid it into the United States subtreasury at New York on Tuesday last. Mr. Greene is at a loss to account for the deficiency, but suspects that he has been systematically robbed by one or more of his clerks. It is stated that Mr. Greene will probably resign his position.

The Western Drought. NEW YORK, Oct. 28-A Louisville, Ky., special says: The Ohio river is nearer dry than has been known for many years. Thousands of passengers and large amounts of freight hitherto going by river are now compelled to swell the earnings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. The low water is the occasion of much distress here and the coal supply, which comes by river from Pittsburg, is now exhausted, and all fuel in use in households well as by manufacturs, has to be brought from Kentucky mines.

The Riddle Poisoning Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28,-A Norwich, Connecticut special has the following: The young wife and son of Riddle, accused of wife murder, attend him constantly in the prison. It is rumored that he is in failing health. It is certain that if he is innocent he will come out of his trial financially ruined. The case of the State vs. Riddle will come up in the city court to-morrow morning, but a motion will be made to have it postponed until next Monday to give the defense time to prepare their case. Prosecuting Attorney Ripley has agreed to a postponement. Williams, the half Indian half negro engineer, who swore out the warrant to secure Riddle's arrest, continues sulky and silent on the matter.

Shooting and Cutting Affair.

Tobacco Plant. Tuesday evening last a row occurred at a bar-room two and a half miles helow Durham on the Raleigh road. The participants were Lem Massey, a white man, and Tom Bass (col.). It was a runken brawl. Bass made Massey with his knife cutting through his clothing, leaving a slight sign in his hide, whereupon the latter drew a pis-tol an t lodged a ball in the back of Bass' neck. Both wounds were slight. Massey has fled to Wake and Bass has had a warrant issued for his arrest.

It must be looking bad for the combination in New York city. The Tribune says that S. J. T. has unloaded a bar'l in the city, which will have a powerful effect. We believe so, especially as the old man's brains are added.

New York presents a comical sight If the straight Democrats don't win the Republicans will, and then what becomes of the Tammanyites who have lived for years on city stealings! Whichever of the two regular parties wins will make it healthier for the city by getting rid of the graceless thieves who have so long been allowed to rule.

Such leading business men and Republicans of New York city as William E. Dodge, H. B. Claffin and David Dows are supporting Governor Robinson for re-election. The Germans are also said to be strongly in favor of the Democratic ticket on account of the Democratic policy of economy and low taxes which has been so successfully carried out by the Governor.

THE New Orleans Democrat is publishing a series of sketches of a summer tour in the mountains of North Carolina, and, strange to say, the author, Mr. Frank McGloin, has neither been killed or scared to death by the desperate "moonshiners" that are said to infest that section of the State-in fact, he doesn't mention having seen one. He ought to have had Mr. Graham's goggles while on his saunterings.

STILL the people of North Carolina pant for newspapers, and gentlemen eager for editorial honors are willing to embark in their behalf. We are informed that Judge W. J. Clarke will commence early in December next the publication of a Republican paper at New Berne. What his prospects are we have no means of determining; but if the Republicans have a majority in this State as is claimed they should certainly support more than the six or eight papers now published of that

THE Kansas Freedmen's Relief Association is out with an appeal for more money. Many of the negroes must be aided through the winter, and some fed until the harvest is gathered next year. One of the documents accompanying "the appeal" is an account of a mass meeting of colored people, who passed a resolution to the effect that Governor St. John is entitled to the warmest sympathy and support of every colored person in Kansas. Some of the stoutest original abolitionists of Kansas disapprove of Governor St. John's course in encouraging the settlement of negroes in the State, and the question is likely to make a division of opinion in the local Republican party,

THE announcement is made that Postmaster General Key has issued instructions to the postmasters of New York city, Louisville and New Orleans to refuse hereafter to rent boxes in their offices to lottery companies or lottery agents. On the other hand, the law firm of which Secretary Evarts is the head has been retained by the Louisiana Lottery Company to defend it against the assaults of the Government. This is nice. One Department trying to crush out a swindle and another Department trying to uphold it. This is somewhat different from the style of old-time leading lawyers. Such men as Webster and Calhoun, Seward and Mason, would never have taken a retainer in a governmental suit while holding a cabinet office.

WHILE Secretary Sherman was booming for Mr. Cornell, disgraced naval officer of the port of New York, at the Cooper Institute Monday evening, some one asked why he was turned out of the position, and here is Mr. Sherman's reply:

I have answered that in the official record. In his removal there was nothing reflecting on his integrity or official conduct. If I had one thousand votes and a thousand voices, they would be all for him. I can say for President Hayes that from the time his nomination was made, he has expressed him-self in favor of Mr. Cornell's election. It is the banner we follow, and not the man. Give the ticket, and the whole ticket, a rousing majority, and then the question of equal rights and of civil liberty will be settled on the right side.

The question arises, For what was he removed? This is a clear "crow" case.

To show how strong the canal influence is in New York State politics, the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, the leading Republican paper in Western New York, comes out in denunciation of Governor Robinson because he holds that the canal toll ought to be graded at a point sufficiently high to pay the cost of maintenance, and bring in a sum equal to the regular requirements of the canal sinking fund, thus preventing the necessity of taxing the people for the public work. In other words, the Governor would have the canal just self-supporting. and, whenever there was a profit, he would utilize it in reducing tolls. The canal people, on the contrary, seem to think that the canal should be made free, or relatively so, and that its indebtedness to the sinking fund, if not its maintenance, should be secured out of the annual tax levy. This is certainly an unjust way of looking at the matter, and most persons out of the State will admit that Governor Robinson's position on this question is in no way to his discredit.

lican congressman, and others would have more weight if it had come earlier.—Springfield Republican.

Nearly twenty years ago, under a Republican administration, the Chemung Canal was leased for a term of years to a coal monopoly, that was making an effort by controlling direct avenues to the Pennsylvania coal fields to keep up the price of coal at a high figure. The citizens of Buffalo and Rochester had to pay $14 a ton. They felt indignant; denounced the scheme as a swindle, and had the operators indicted for conspiracy. The lease was thrown up and coal fell to its normal price of from $6 to $7 a ton. Had these astute operators, who are now advocating Cornell and Kelly, been able to carry out their plans, they would have reaped fortunes from the poorer classes of Republicans and Democrats.

THE INDIAN QUESTION. It is the custom now to condemn the Indian policy as pursued by the Government. The policy is erroneous in many respects, but it is the variation of the policy that has furnished the cause of the many Indian outbreaks during the last few years. Had the treaty stipulations been complied with there would have been no trouble. The Washington Post in discussing the subject says: The notion very generally held in regard to the Indians is that they are the real owners of this continent, and that the people who now occupy, posses and rule it, are trespassers on the do main of the red men. A vast deal of sertimental bosh has been written in accordance with this absurd theory, and, to a great extent, it has controlled ur relations and dealings with the Aborigines. It is high time to have

Now it is safe to assert that no such notion is held. The plain truth is, certain portions were purchased from the Indians for which they were paid to a certain extent and in a certain manner. Frauds were perpetrated in the purchase, but that is a thing of the past. In consideration of the relinquishment of certain lands, a claim that was recognized by the Government, they were possessed of certain lands in perpetuity -only a small portion of that land that rightfully belonged to them. Since then their possessions have been encroached on, and their annuities withheld. They have uniformly complied with their part of the agreement until driven to desperation by the agents of the Government and the depdations of white squatters. This cannot truthfully be denied. But the Post goes still further:

When the first European immigrants came here, it was their policy to make terms with the Indians, for they were at their mercy: but it was absurd for the Government, after its organization, to recognize tribes of Indians as dis tinct nations, and enter into solemn treaties with them—treaties that were foreordained to be broken by the Government, because they set apart and dedicated to roving tribes and bands of red men vast tracts of country that inevitably must be occupied by the whites in a few years. * * We owe the Indians nothing except what the rich and powerful owe to the poor and weak. We are not responsible for the events that have made this country the home of 50,000,000 intelligent and prosperous people, the leading nation of the globe; instead of a wilderness, inhabited only by scattered tribes of savages. They have no claim to the ownership of the soil, because they were not strong enough to hold it. It was taken from them by the operation of natural causes, and not by any fault that we are bound to atone for. Harsh as these facts may seem, they are undeniable, and it is time to substitute them for the senti-mentality that has too long dictated our

According to the Post, then, the only law that should be recognized is that might makes right. The minority is supposed to be entirely at the mercy of the majority in everything, ownership of land as well. Under this ruling a weak man may own a valued piece of land and be ejected therefrom without remuneration by any person that comes along possessed of sufficient force of arms. If this theory is to stand as the interpretation of the Constitution every poor man is entirely at the mercy of the rich, for he has not the means of maintaining a fight for his natural rights. This is just what the Post says: "They have no claim to the ownership of the soil because they were not strong enough to hold it." If such things come through the operation of natural causes the theory of government is overthrown.

"The Indians must, take up farms." Supposing they do, what is to confirm them in their maintenance? They have already taken up the land allotted to them by the Government, but the whites have invaded their domain and the laws were powerless to protect them. There is plenty of unoccupied land for white settlers; why don't they locate where they can gain a valid right to perpetual possession? If these lawless settlers undertake to possess themselves of the Indians' lands they must and should suffer the consequences. There is no "bosh" about it. If the Post's idea was carried out in its fullness throughout the land, there would soon be an end of the Government.

Let the Government conform to its treaty stipulations there will be no Indian outbreaks.

The Campaign in the State.

Brooklyn Eagle. The most trustworthy information obtainable from the interior of the State is greatly encouraging to the friends of Governor Robinson. Nearly every election district has been heard from, and the reports warrant the belief that the Governor's plurality over Mr Cornell will not be less than twenty thousand. That a very different result is indicated by the proceedings on what may be termed the surface of politics is not doubtful. All the noise and bluster of the canvass are on the side of the Kelly-Cornell combination. The Canal ring and the Tammany people have been on parade, and the curious crowds attracted by the spectacle have been regarded as of their number—a mistake such as would be made if all the persons who turn out to see Barnum's processions were reckoned as belonging to the troupe. There is no element of opposition to Governor Robinson as not placed itself on exhibition Several thousand so-called Democrats, who have for the past five years opposed the Democratic State candidates, have with much shouting and swagger come out openly this year, encouraged by the belief that the Kelly bolt made it safe so to do. In the meantime the friends of Governor Robinson have been, without any beating of gongs, acquainting the voters of the State with the real issues at stake. There is not a man of intelligence in the Common. wealth who does not now understand the nature of he corrupt league that has been formed to destroy an administration that has incurred the enmity of every knave who hopes to profit by seeing the old time robbers restored to power. What Governor Robinson has effected in the reduction of taxation, the purification of the various departments. and his resolute integrity are all things now familiar to every farmer, mechanic and merchant, who will be called on to support or oppose him at the polls.

The registration of voters in New York city closed Saturday night. During the four days there were 168,043 names entered on the registry books In 1875 the total registration was 144. 838; in 1876 it rose to 183,064, but in 1877 it fell to 143,015, rising again in 1878 to 158 914. Comparing the registration of 1879 with that of 1876, the Presidential year, it will be seen that there is a falling off of 15,021 names.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure. Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)
It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the prepara-tion by well-known physicians, :emoves all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Heraid, Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for invigestion and flatulent colle, sedative, soporfic, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea. Rev. B. F. Woodward P. E., Na. Cont. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with im; unity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invalable.

J.D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and ecommend it. Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.
This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our 'National Disease.' The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to set.
